

Luxury Residence Lexington, Massachusetts

The design of this residence responds to the wishes of the young family's need for large cooking, dining, entertaining areas as well as visiting guest quarters that draw their cues from a rich overseas heritage of gracious city and country living. The strong finishes, building forms and window openings are gestures and reminders of a homeland far away.

